Working for Good Government

Vic Snyder has voted for you, not for sweetheart deals for legislators.

- ♦ Of 135 legislators, Vic Snyder was one of only 16 to vote against the 50% increase in legislative retirement benefits.
- ♦ Vic Snyder is the only Arkansas legislator who does not participate in the legislative retirement plan, and he sponsored legislation to end the legislative retirement plan.
- ♦ Vic Snyder refused state health insurance. Vic believes this benefit is for state employees, not part-time elected officials.
- ♦ Vic Snyder led the fight to require legislators to publicly disclose business they do with the state.
- ♦ Vic Snyder fought building the Big Mac II state office complex, a boondoggle for Arkansas taxpayers.
- ♦ Vic Snyder was the only legislator to file a report described as "exemplary" by the Executive Director of the Ethics Commission in the first filing under the new campaign ethics law.
- ♦ Vic Snyder supports non-partisan election of judges, to get partisan politics out of the justice system.

Working for Safer Neighborhoods

Arkansans want their communities and neighborhoods to be free from fear and violence. Vic Snyder believes in solutions that work: tough law enforcement now and long-term prevention measures for the future.

- ♦ Vic Snyder introduced and passed Arkansas' first no-tolerance underage drinking law, to combat the dangerous combination of kids, cars and alcohol.
- ♦ Vic Snyder's leadership in the Senate resulted in passage of Representative Jim Argue's bill to prohibit the release of violent convicted criminals appealing their convictions.
- ♦ Vic Snyder supported legislation to allow transfer of non-violent offenders to community punishment centers, to open up more prison beds for violent criminals in state prisons.
- ♦ He supported Governor Tucker's reform package, which provides for truth in sentencing, wilderness camps for serious youth offenders, and community punishment centers for non-violent criminals.
- ♦ Vic Snyder sponsored legislation to create a third municipal judgeship for Little Rock, which is now working for better, safer neighborhoods.
- ♦ He completed the Little Rock Police Department's "Citizens Police Academy" to learn more about the impact of crime in the community and how to solve the crime problem.

Vic Snyder understands that the long-term solution to crime is more complex than just building prisons. The eight, nine, and ten-year-olds in our schools today are potentially the youth crime problems of the year 2000.

That's why Vic supports positive solutions such as early intervention and education for at-risk youth. The several hundred teenagers who are expelled or on suspension from school are a breeding ground for crime and violence in our community. Many of these kids spend their days unsupervised in our neighborhoods. Vic supports getting those kids off the streets and into alternative settings which provide discipline and education.

Vic Snyder knows that a strong Central Arkansas economy depends on safe neighborhoods and a good education for all of our kids.
